Civil works commence for Surat Basin drilling program

Senex Energy Ltd (Senex, ASX: SXY) has begun civil works for the ~110 well drilling campaign in its Surat Basin natural gas development projects.

Civil works comprise construction of well lease pads and access roads for the entire program across the Roma North and Project Atlas developments. Senex has awarded the contract for initial well pads and access roads to T&W Earthmoving, a local and experienced supplier.

Both Project Atlas and Roma North continue to advance on schedule, including:

- long lead items ordered for wellhead skids, well site generators and drilling and completion items;
- tenders received for drilling rig and well site services, with contracts to be awarded shortly;
- drilling campaign to start in Q4 FY19;
- Roma North gas facility on-track with commissioning in mid-2019;
- Project Atlas first gas production on-track for the end of 2019.

Commenting on the progress made, Managing Director and CEO Ian Davies said: "These civil works mark the start of our comprehensive drilling program in the Surat Basin. Senex is delighted to have awarded a local Queensland supplier this significant contract.

This activity increases the momentum of our natural gas projects and continues the transformation of our business, with key milestones to follow in the coming months", he said.
